6. At Rosiorii De Vede there is an officers' candidate school (one of three officers' candidate schools of Ministry of Interior Troops) with approximately 500 officer candidates.
7. One armored regiment is located at Floresti, (Ilfov district).
8. At Campina one antiaircraft artillery regiment is located in the barracks formerly occupied by signal troops.
9. The system of coastal defenses of the Rumanian-Black Sea Coast falls under the command of the coastal batteries, headquarters Constanta. This is subordinate to the command of naval forces with headquarters also at Constanta. The Rumanian-Black Sea Coast line is divided into four sectors, each having six to eight coastal artillery batteries. These are equipped mostly with Soviet coastal guns, Caliber 203 mm. The sectors and their commanding officers are as follows:
 - a. First sector includes mouth and delta of Danube River. Commanding Officer, Lieutenant Colonel Constantin Ignat.
 - b. Second sector extends from south of Sfantul Gheorghe to north of Constanta. Commanding Officer, Lieutenant Colonel Presbeanu.
 - c. Third sector includes Constanta and Carmen Sylva. Commanding Officer, Lieutenant Colonel Grigore Siminiac.
 - d. Fourth sector extends from south of Carmen Sylva to the Bulgarian border. Commanding Officer, Lieutenant Colonel Enea Popovici. The rank of lieutenant colonel is equivalent to captain second class in the Rumanian Navy.
10. At Targisor, southwest of Ploesti, several groups of former Rumanian officers who were prisoners of war in the USSR arrived from the USSR via Sighet. They were held for investigation in a camp near Sighet, after which some were returned to civilian life, others were sent to the Danube-Black Sea Canal as laborers and others were sent before a Military Tribunal in Bucharest for trial.
